

Figure 1: The shematic algorithm to find after pulses. Pulse shapes are positive.

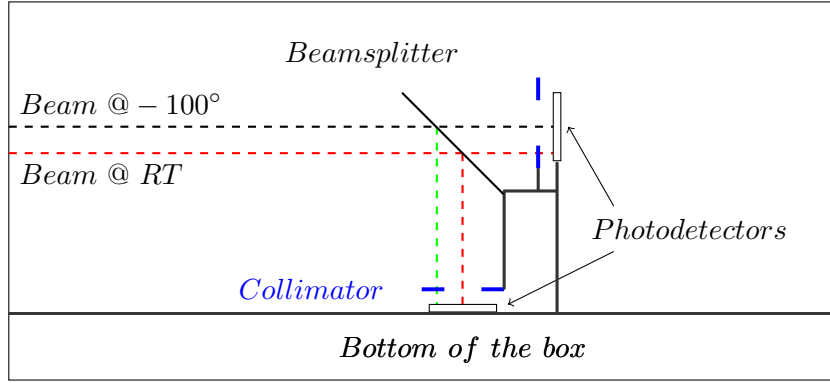

Figure 2: Effect of the temperature on the position of the two photodetectors

As no single university could provide research needs, the initial consortium grows up to 19 different member and associate universities from across Canada. This consortium rules BALalal and has allowed it to evolve into a national laboratory.

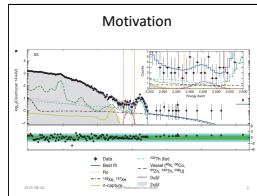

Figure 3: Dark and light regions.